From Camp SOAR to American Wheelchair Tennis Championships

Marshall Edward Wicker is married to Pat Wicker. Ed was an Air Force airplane mechanic during the Vietnam era.

We met at SCI/D Camp SOAR (April 25-28 2017 which takes place bi-annually at Camp Will-A-Way in Winder Georgia). I asked Ed and Pat why they decided to come to Camp SOAR. "He explained, when he came to Charlie Norwood VAMC Augusta, GA for his annual exam someone told him about our SCI/D camp". Ed and Pat decided to attend because they were curious, for the fellowship, networking the camaraderie and leisure activities.

"He also said he would not have thought to try zip lining or kayaking if not for attending camp."

I think that the thank you note Ed and Pat shared with the chapter after camp says it all.

Dear Sir or Madam,

My wife (caregiver) and I want to thank you for your support of the Charlie Norwood camp at Will-A-Way. We always enjoy all the activities and networking with all of the campers. Always come home knowing I am not alone with my disability.

Thanks and God bless you
Ed and Pat

But wait their story doesn’t end at camp. Ed sings, plays the guitar, gardens and plays tennis.

When I arrived in McDonough, Georgia to complete in the American Wheelchair Tennis Championships (the largest letter event in the nation). I see Ed in a tennis chair ready to compete in his 1st wheelchair tennis competition! Ed played 20 years ago before his injury. He and I agree playing tennis is a great way to get some good exercise and remain physically active.

Ed and Pat are still on the move. This past Friday, May 11 Ed went kayaking with Charlie Norwood SCI/D staff. Ed also purchased a zero turn lawnmower after spending some time talking with Lee Baker. Another active SEPVA volunteer board member.

How does he do it ALL? He said "The secret is to keep looking up and moving forward."

Ed you and Pat are an inspiration to many.

Our next Camp SOAR is scheduled for 2019. Over 42 Veterans living with SCI/D and 15 Caregivers participated in our 2017 Camp SOAR. The events include, zip line, bocce ball, motto rally, Para cord bracelet making, scavenger hunt, fishing, exercise group, leisure education, archery, corn hole, midnight movies on the greens, karaoke, theme party, campfire and cook out.

Mid-Term Election, this is the catch words this year. What does it mean? Another chance for us to make our Senators and Representatives get interested in Veterans issues. If you haven’t read the May PN, please do. Our National President, David Zurflur’s Testimony, summary before Congress is there. If you had been following pass testimonies, especially the last five years it seems to be the same story. Funding the VA, Protect Specialized Care, and increase and protect all Care Givers. It’s time we make the Mid-Term Election work for us. Contact your Senators and Representatives and let them know these are issues veterans must get pass.

June 1 to November 30, Atlantic Hurricane Season. Are we ready? Were the survival kit? Do I have a Kit!? What should be in the Kit? Can family, care giver, emergency staff, or friends, find me if evacuation become necessary? Have you check with your SCI Coordinator, and updated all your medical and travel information? Remembering once a State of Emergency has been posted traffic is only in one direction. Seventy Two hours really isn’t enough time to get all this together. If you live in one of the high impact areas notify local Emergency Services, of your location and needs. We need to prepare to assist ourselves to make it to safety. June 1st, to November 30th.!

Helpful Hints from SCI-Homecare

Nellie Rovansek, Dietitian

Building a Healthy Meal using MyPlate

Using MyPlate
1. Make half your plate vegetables and fruits. Focus on whole fruits and vegetables.
2. Include whole grains. Choose "100% whole grain" or "100% whole wheat" on food labels. Grains provide more nutrients, like fiber, than processed grains.
3. Don’t forget the dairy. Drink milk alternatives like soy, almond, coconut and cashew milk if you can’t tolerate milk products.
4. Add lean protein such as beef, pork loin, chicken, eggs, nuts, beans, fish and tofu.
5. Avoid Trans Fat. Use low fat cooking methods like steaming or grilling. Avoid "Deep Fried Foods".
6. Drink water instead of sugary drinks like Powerade, Gatorade, sodas and energy drinks.

Benefits of using MyPlate for SCI
Dietary fiber from vegetables, fruits and whole grains can help reduce blood cholesterol levels. Fiber is also important for proper bowel regulation. It helps reduce constipation and provides bulk to reduce bowel accidents. When increasing fiber intake, be sure to drink plenty of fluids to prevent any stomach cramping.

Vitamin C found in fruits and vegetables help heal cuts and wounds. It also plays an important role in iron absorption.

Dairy provides a good source of calcium and is often times fortified with Vitamin D which is important for maintaining bone health. Vitamin D promotes calcium absorption in the gut and helps keep proper calcium and phosphorus levels in the blood. Vitamin D is also vital in proper cell growth, immune function and may help reduce inflammation. Vitamin D sources include 5-30 minutes of sun exposure twice a week, fish like salmon and tuna, fortified yogurts and milks, and eggs.

Protein found in meats like fish, pork, poultry, beef, eggs, nuts, beans, seeds and legumes help maintain muscle mass and are the building blocks for many body functions. Choosing lean meats like chicken breast, salmon and pork loin, as well as, beans and legumes can help decrease bad cholesterol and improve good cholesterol. Protein is also important for healing wounds when adequate calories and fluid are met.

PROVISIONS TO IMPROVE THE AIR TRAVEL EXPERIENCE OF PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES INCLUDED IN THE FAA REAUTHORIZATION

On April 27th, the House passed the FAA Reauthorization Act of 2018 (H.R. 4) overwhelmingly by a vote of 393-13. This legislation includes many amendments from the Air Carriers Access Amendment Act (H.R. 5004) as introduced by Congressman Jim Langevin (D-RI).

PVA supports the following provisions included H.R.4:

Development of an airline passengers with disabilities bill of rights.

Increased civil penalties for harm towards passengers with disabilities or their wheelchairs.

Establishment of a Select Subcommittee on Aviation Consumers with Disabilities to the Advisory Committee for Aviation Consumer Protection.

Evaluation of areas for improvement to increase airport accessibility and training of air carrier and contract personnel.

Requirements for the U.S. Access Board and the DOT to investigate the feasibility of in-cabin wheelchair restraint systems for people with disabilities.

Directions to DOT to revise its service animal regulation.

Requirements for passengers with disabilities to receive timely and effective assistance at the airport and on the aircraft, including personnel providing hands on assistance possibly being required to receive hands on training to perform that assistance and on the use of any needed equipment.

The Senate’s FAA reauthorization legislation is still pending and will likely come to the floor in June. The Senate legislation, S.1405, passed out of Committee on June 29, 2017, and has many of the same provisions affecting passengers with disabilities as the House version (H.R. 4). Of note, the Senate bill does not include specific direction for DOT to revise policies regarding service animals.

Other parts of the ACAAA (H.R. 5004 / S. 1318) that could possibly be added as amendments when the Senate bill goes to the floor are a private right of action, the referral to the Department of Justice (DOJ) of alleged violations, and a requirement for airlines to use aircraft that meet accessibility standards as defined by the ACCESS Board and the DOT.

After the Senate passes its version of FAA Reauthorization, the two measures will be conferenced to work out the differences with the goal of having legislation for the President’s signature before the current FAA authorization expires at the end of September.

IMPORTANT DISABILITY DISASTER RECOVERY PROVISIONS WERE ADDED TO THE FAA REAUTHORIZATION

Included in H.R. 4, the House FAA reauthorization measure, were a number of disaster recovery related measures concerning temporary housing assistance, data reporting, duplication of benefits, and transparency in contracting. Of particular interest to people with disabilities are provisions of the bill that would increase funding for disaster mitigation and raise the ceiling on certain costs that can be excluded from maximum financial assistance that can be provided to survivors. Because funding for pre-disaster planning and development as well as post-disaster recovery is considered federal financial assistance, any construction undertaken for these purposes must comply with Section 504 accessibility guidelines. Thus, the monies in the House bill offer the potential for enhancing accessibility in post-disaster rebuilding efforts. In addition, the bill would exclude costs associated with repairing or replacing accessibility-related improvements or personal property from counting against a household’s maximum allowable disaster financial assistance. The Senate has not yet determined whether it will include these House disaster relief provisions in its version of the FAA bill but advocates remain cautiously optimistic that they will be included in any final agreement.
We Salute You All!

We want to thank Bill and Maria Bradford, his entire family and all the wonderful volunteers in Lincolnton, GA for all that you do to make our visits a complete success. Once we set a date to go to the pond, the Bradford’s send word out and it always seems as if the whole town comes out to assist our veterans. The Mayor, Police and Sherriff Departments come by to make sure we are doing well. The lunch provided is always delicious. We are looking forward to our next visit. You guys are so amazing.

MORE AIRLINES ANNOUNCE CHANGES TO THEIR SERVICE ANIMAL POLICIES

American Airlines is the latest to announce that it will make changes to its service animal policy. Starting July 1, American will require travelers with emotional support animals to attest to their animal's behavior via an airline provided form. The airline also announced additional changes including restrictions on types of animals and enforcement of the requirement to complete medical and the now animal behavior documentation 48 hours before takeoff.

On March 1, Delta Airlines and United Airlines made similar changes to their service animal policies. Alaska Airlines also made changes to its policy that went into effect on May 1. Additional airlines are considering revisions to their policies.

Prior to making its announcement, American met with members of the disability community to discuss our concerns. During our discussions, PVA made it clear that we do not believe that airlines have the authority to place additional requirements on passengers traveling with emotional support animals, beyond those listed in the Air Carrier Access Act (ACAA) regulations. One positive aspect of American's policy change, that is a direct result of our conversations, is the implementation of additional training for American personnel and contractors regarding service animals and emotional support animals.

PVA and nine other disability organizations sent a letter to U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) Secretary Elaine Chao on February 6th asking the Department to deem Delta and United's policies to be in violation of the Air Carrier Access Act (ACAA). On May 16th, DOT issued an Interim Statement of Enforcement Priorities Regarding Service Animals. DOT also released an ANRRM to begin the process for revising the ACAA's service animal regulations.

In the meantime, Senator Richard Burr (R-NC) introduced legislation in the Senate, S. 2738, which would eliminate access for emotional support animals under the ACAA. PVA does not support this legislation. We believe that DOT should continue to move forward with its regulations to allow all stakeholders to engage in the process of determining access for service animals and emotional support animals.

Southeastern Paralyzed Veterans of America reaching out to vets by sharing information for Paralyzed Awareness Month at the Dublin VA. Thank you Joe Willis for your volunteer efforts in Dublin.
WASHINGTON, DC — Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA) issued the following statement today from its Executive Director, Carl Blake, in response to the House passage of the VA MISSION Act:

"On behalf of Paralyzed Veterans of America members—veterans with spinal cord injury or disease—their families, and caregivers, we applaud the House of Representatives for its passage today of the VA MISSION Act. This critical legislation will ensure that meaningful reform is effected for the delivery of veterans' health care, particularly in the community.

We are particularly pleased with the inclusion of the expansion of the Department of Veterans Affairs' Comprehensive Family Caregiver Program to veterans injured prior to September 11, 2001. This issue has been the number one priority for our members and their families since the creation of the original program. The correction in the inequity of the existing program is long overdue.

We are very disappointed in those members of the House who have chosen to vote against the VA MISSION Act. This legislation has strong bipartisan support and the support of 38 major veterans and military service organizations. A vote against this legislation is a vote against veterans, particularly veterans with catastrophic disabilities, with critical health care access and caregiver support needs.

We now call on the Senate to quickly take up and pass this legislation. Community care reform and expansion of the caregiver program cannot be delayed any longer."

Paralyzed Veterans of America Commends President Trump for Signing VA MISSION Act

WASHINGTON, DC — Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA) issued the following statement from its President, David Zurfluh, in response to President Trump signing the VA MISSION Act into law:

"On behalf of Paralyzed Veterans of America members—veterans with spinal cord injury or disease—their families, and caregivers, we wish to express our gratitude to President Trump for signing this bipartisan legislation into law. The VA MISSION Act will strengthen the ability of the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to deliver health care in both the community and in VA facilities around the country, as well as assess and realign VA infrastructure. Of critical importance to PVA, the MISSION Act will finally expand the VA Comprehensive Family Caregiver Program to those veterans injured prior to September 11, 2001.

This legislation wouldn’t have made it across the finish line without the enormous efforts of Senate Veterans’ Affairs Committee Chairman Johnny Isakson (R-GA) and Ranking Member Jon Tester (D-MT), as well as House Veterans’ Affairs Committee Chairman Phil Roe (R-TN). We would also like to thank Senator Patty Murray (D-WA) for her persistent advocacy for the caregivers of our nation’s veterans.

Now that the VA MISSION Act has been signed into law, we will work tirelessly to ensure that this legislation is implemented properly, and that the VA Comprehensive Family Caregiver Program is made available to veterans who served prior to 9/11 as swiftly as possible."

MONEY FOR BOWEL AND BLADDER

By: John Michel, National Service Officer III

There are many benefits available to our Spinal Cord Injured/Diseased (SCI/D) veterans. Some of which you would never know about unless you were part of the SCI/D arena. Having worked for PVA for the past year, there is a program (benefit) that I had never heard about when I was working for other non-SCI/D Veterans Service Organizations (VSO); the Bowel and Bladder (B&B) Program. Although it made sense that I had not heard of that program before, what doesn’t make sense is that some of the SCI/D veterans who have been injured for years still haven’t heard and/or haven’t taken advantage of this huge VHA based benefit exclusive to SCI/D veterans.
This program is administered independently, and a little differently, by each VAMC SCI across the nation. However, regardless of how it is administered, the basis of the program is nearly the same from one SCI VAMC to another. The program pays a monthly stipend to the individual that the veteran designates as his/her Bowel and Bladder Care Provider; i.e., the person that helps with the routine in-home bowel and bladder care. Quadriplegics/Tetraplegics, usually automatically qualify, but paraplegics must have medical justification to qualify. In either case, the veteran must go through his/her SCI provider for a referral to the program and once referred and accepted, the veteran designated B&B caretaker will attend an inpatient or outpatient training program on how to do proper B&B care. Once the training is completed, the B&B program begins. The designated caretaker will then receive a monthly stipend from the Department of Veterans Affairs for the B&B care and treatment provided to the veteran. The monetary amount varies from person to person because it is based on the hours required to administer B&B care to the SCI/D veteran. It is important to note that this monetary amount does not count as household income, for VA purposes.
There are many ins and outs regarding the B&B program, but for the most part, the above is a synopsis of the program. If you have any questions regarding this program and/or any of your VA benefits, do not hesitate to contact your local PVA National Service Officer, who will be more than happy to assist you in any way he/she can.

Veteran Transportation Services

Starting on June 1, 2018 Asheville Veterans Hospital will be offering transportation to and from the associated CBOC and the Asheville Hospital. The transportation is between 7:00 and 12:30. This is good for veterans that have scheduled appointments between 8:30 and finished by 12:00. The VA hospital is starting off with these hours and may extend times to a later date.

This is open for all veterans. The vehicles are capable to handle walkers as well as wheelchair users.

If you qualify for travel pay, it will only cover from home to CBOC not home to hospital, since you are using the transportation services by the VA hospital.

To schedule a ride you will need to call the Asheville VA hospital @ 828-298-7911 and then ext. 5543. They do need a 48 hours’ notice to schedule your ride.

If you are a veteran that goes to another hospital, you may want to see if this option is available for you especially if you don’t get travel pay.
